This three-credit course allows U.S. college students to travel and explore the history and cultures of Cambodia and Laos. Students in this program will broaden their perspectives on international affairs and other worldviews; expand their knowledge of the legacy/impact of colonialism and Western influence on Southeast Asia; better understand Cambodian, Hmong, and Lao communities in the United States in relation to their co-ethnics in Southeast Asia; and play an active role in promoting world peace. The program is open to all students enrolled in U.S. higher education institutions.
