Reproduces a large archive of research sources for women's studies as well as the history of nursing, medicine, and hospitals… Part 1: contains 17th and 18th century materials: approximately 1,200 monographs, most in English, although there are titles in German, French, Swedish, and other European languages; single journal numbers and reprints; handwritten and typewritten manuscripts; addresses, pamphlets, annual reports, and bibliographies; documents from French hospitals, and works and letters of Florence Nightingale.

(Description from the Library of Congress)