Occupation of Japan.
A collection of previously unpublished English language documents from U.S. government agencies and officials covering the period from U.S. wartime preparations for occupation of Japan through negotiation of the official peace treaty in 1951. Many of the documents are minutes of important meetings of organizations. The units available include: (1) U.S. Planning Documents, 1942-1945; (2) U.S. and Allied Policy, 1945-1952; (3) Reform, Recovery and Peace, 1942-1952.

Description from the Library of Congress