The College of Nursing offers you the most exciting global-focused courses.

Check out our offerings for Fall 2017 ~ Enroll Now

NURS-110: Introduction to Global Health (3 cr)
An overview of the broad field of global health, using the U.N. Sustainable Development Goals as a guiding framework.
Tuesday & Thursday 12:30pm—1:45pm
Prereq: none.

NURS-204: Global Maternal and Child Health: From Evidence to Action (3 cr)
Critical issues impacting the health of mothers, newborns and children, using a global perspective and a life course analytical approach.
Wednesday from 4:00pm—6:50pm
Prereq: none.

NURS-620: Global Food Security and Systems (3 cr)
An in-depth investigation of global food systems and their impact on food security and development.
ONLINE
Prereq: jr st. or consent of instructor

All courses count towards the Global Health Certificate and Global Studies-Global Health baccalaureate degree. For more information, visit: http://uwm.edu/nursing/about/centers-institutes/global-health-equity/