

Don't Get Lost in Translation

In a multilingual world, clear communication often depends on the ability to translate messages from one language or culture to another. If you need to overcome a language barrier in your business, research, or community outreach, we can help.

Connect with UWM Language Services

When you need language services, you want to know that your project is in good hands. At UWM Language Services, we employ highly qualified students, alumni, and faculty of UWM's Graduate Program in Translation to ensure that your expectations for quality are always met.

Let UWM Language Services help you find the best solution for your translation or interpreting needs. From start to finish, we'll work with you every step of the way. Together we can connect with your multilingual audience – locally and globally.

Tailoring Our Services

UWM Language Services recognizes that each language project is unique, so we tailor our services to suit the varied needs of our clients.

We offer:

- translation (written language)
- interpreting (spoken language)
- gist or sight translation (summary of a document written in another language)
- other language-related consulting

Languages Offered

Our translators and interpreters regularly provide services between English and:

- French
- Portuguese
- German
- Russian
- Italian
- Spanish

Please contact us to ask about services in other language pairs.

Translation Rates

UWM Language Services applies the industry-standard practice of pricing based on a document's word count. A document containing few words is typically assessed a flat-fee or per-page rate. Project quotes include costs for translation, editing, and project management.

Interpreting & Consulting Rates

We typically charge by the hour for interpreting and consulting services.

Meeting Your Needs

When you contact UWM Language Services to inquire about a translation or interpreting job, one of our project managers will gather information about your:

- languages and target audience
- document type and length
- deadline
- preferred method of delivery
- other details vital to a quality outcome

For translation jobs, project managers use these details to provide you with a quote and assemble a project team.

For interpreting or consulting jobs, project managers select the most qualified students or alumni to deliver services.

Our Clients

Since 2004, UWM Language Services has delivered high-quality translation & interpreting services to academic departments, researchers, for-profit & not-for-profit organizations, and community members.

Clients include:

- Medical College of Wisconsin
- PyraMax Bank
- NYU Bellevue Medical Center
- UWM Helen Bader School of Social Welfare
- UWM Lubar School of Business
- Sixteenth Street Community Health Center
- United Way of Greater Milwaukee

“United Way of Greater Milwaukee has been very pleased with the quality of work provided by UWM Language Services. Over the past three years, we have relied on them to provide translation services for ten unique outcomes surveys. It is imperative that the surveys be culturally appropriate and correctly translated into Spanish. The work was done quickly and was of high quality – we highly recommend them!”
