Call for submissions for IX issue of e.polis, Fall edition

Submission Deadline: February 16th, 2017

e.polis is the electronic journal published by the Urban Studies Program at the University of Wisconsin-Milwaukee. e.polis reflects the mission and methodologies of the Urban Studies Programs by using an interdisciplinary lens to examine the growth and development of urban communities and social institutions in order to better understand urban processes and develop policies for the resolution of contemporary social problems. The editorial staff of e.polis is comprised of graduate students in the Urban Studies Programs and is perhaps the only student published electronic journal in the country dedicated to urban studies concerns.

Types of submissions:

- Article-length papers
- Synthesis of literature reviews
- Book reviews
- Essays

e.polis welcomes works representing all points-of-view and disciplines.
