

Middle Childhood– Early Adolescence Program

About UW-Milwaukee

UWM's 104-acre campus is located just blocks from the shoreline of Lake Michigan, in the economic and industrial center of Wisconsin. More than 25,000 students, 180 degree programs and a world-class faculty drive UWM's progress as a major public research university and engine of development for Southeastern Wisconsin and beyond. Underscoring all the advantages of a large urban institution, the university's Access to Success initiatives ensure that first-year and transfer students establish a network of friends and support, and achieve success through academic opportunities and personal connections with experienced students, faculty and resource centers campus wide.

The School of Education

The UW-Milwaukee School of Education prepares you for a career as a teacher, counselor or principal, or as an educator working in non-school settings such as child care centers, social service agencies, business, government and industry.

You will learn from distinguished faculty who are recognized internationally for their scholarship, leadership and research. We work closely with more than 200 area schools and agencies, giving you the opportunity to have hands-on field experience. You will also learn by interacting with over 2,000 classmates, with varied backgrounds and experience. At the heart of our program is an urban mission, preparing you to meet the unique social and economic challenges facing urban schools. With an education degree from UWM's School of Education, you'll take your place among skilled and motivated professional educators who are sought after by schools and agencies in metropolitan Milwaukee and across the country.

The UWM School of Education is preparing tomorrow's educators with a commitment to diversity, equity and excellence. If you're ready to make a difference, we invite you to explore the many opportunities here at UWM's School of Education.

About the MC-EA Program

The Middle Childhood through Early Adolescence Program (MC-EA) is designed for students seeking to teach at the middle childhood-early adolescence level (ages 6-12 or 13, grades 1- 8). This program prepares students to work in urban settings and takes place in close partnership with local school districts. The UWM School of Education's urban mission is upheld in the MC-EA program's commitment to preparing pre-service teachers to meet the needs of diverse populations. Students are admitted into the MC-EA program upon admission to the University, and it is possible to complete the program in four years. Students who satisfactorily meet program requirements will be recommended for student teaching. Upon successful completion of all student teaching requirements, including several state required assessments, students will be licensed to teach grades 1-8.
