1.1 Department Chair: Selection

(1) General Procedures: See University of Wisconsin-Milwaukee (UWM) Policies and Procedures 4.06.

(2) Specific procedures of the English Department for casting advisory ballots:

- The casting of the advisory ballot for Chair is preceded by a primary ballot containing the names of all eligible candidates. The primary ballot is distributed by the Associate Chair for Undergraduate Studies to every member of the departmental faculty, including those on leave.
- This primary ballot is distributed with the call for the meeting at which the advisory ballot will be cast.
- On the primary ballot, the following message will be included: “The primary election for Chair has often determined the outcome of the selection process. Almost invariably, the winner of the primary has been the only candidate agreeing to stand for the final election (officially called the advisory election). It is therefore important to cast your vote in the primary election.”
- The marked primary ballots are returned one week before the meeting at which the advisory ballot will be cast. Sealed primary ballots are placed in a ballot box and tabulated in the presence of the Associate Chairs for Undergraduate and Graduate Studies. Results are distributed to the Departmental Committee within 24 hours.
- The advisory ballot is cast at the Departmental Committee meeting called for that purpose.

Policy for Elections to Literary Studies Advisory Committee: The Advisory Committee will be elected by faculty members whose primary affiliation is with Plan A. Elections to the relevant posts will take place in the Spring meeting of Plan A faculty, and the result will be forwarded to the Chair no later than May 1.

(4) Media, Cinema, and Digital Studies (Plan H) Advisory Committee: All members of the Professorial Staff regularly teaching in these areas and one graduate student from Plan H (appointed by the Plan H Coordinator for a one-year term). Affiliated faculty from other departments and academic staff regularly teaching in these areas serve as non-voting members

2.10 Advisory Committees for Department Plans: Duties

The Graduate Policy Committee has the following duties:

- (1) Formulates broad lines of policy, subject to the approval of the Departmental Committee, regarding graduate matters. Such policy guidelines should include but need not be confined to: definitions of and curricular requirements for English graduate programs; criteria qualifying faculty to teach undergraduate courses offered for graduate credit, pro seminars, and seminars and for directing dissertations and serving on dissertation committees; participation of graduate students in decisions affecting programs and curricula; appeals procedures for students.

(2) Implements approved policy and, in so doing, appoints individuals and creates standing and ad hoc committees to perform such duties as advising the Associate Chair for Undergraduate Studies on the scheduling of graduate courses and instructors for them; approves examination formats and dissertation topics; evaluates the performance of graduate students at appropriate times; makes recommendations for admission to and termination of students in graduate programs; makes recommendations for assistantships, fellowships, and scholarships; and assists graduate students seeking jobs.

(3) Maintains an up-to-date English Graduate Handbook which includes, in addition to approved policies, membership and duty specifications for all standing subcommittees created by the Graduate Policy Committee.

2.13 Grievance Committee

Membership: Three faculty members - at least two having achieved the rank of tenure - and one member of the Academic Staff. Due to privacy reasons, no students can serve on the Grievance Committee.

Undergraduate Grievance/Grade Appeal Procedure

According to the “College of Letters and Science Grievance/Grade Appeal Procedure” https://uwm.edu/letters-science/wp-content/uploads/sites/255/2016/05/grievance_policy.pdf

Step 1 of the “undergraduate grievance/grade appeal procedure” is as follows: “Within thirty (30) working days from the date of the action prompting the appeal or grievance, the student may file with the chair of the department or his/her designee a written statement of appeal. The statement should describe relevant facts surrounding the appeal/grievance and identify actions that will resolve the problem to the student’s satisfaction. In response to this statement, the chair or designee will meet jointly or individually with all parties in an effort to resolve the problem and will prepare a written ‘mediation report’ of the results of his/her mediation efforts. Additionally, the chair or designee will issue a status report on the resolution progress via email to all parties every 15 working days until the written 'mediation' report is completed. Concerns about lack of progress or reporting may be referred to the Office of the Associate Dean for humanities, natural sciences, or social sciences, as appropriate. The mediation report will be given to both the student and the instructor, and both the statement of appeal and the mediation report will be retained in the department's files. If a proposed resolution is agreeable, the student will be asked to indicate formally that the matter is resolved. If the proposed resolution is not acceptable to either the student or the instructor, or if no resolution has been proposed, then the process continues to Step 2"— i.e. "the student or the instructor may request, within ten (10) working days of receiving a copy of the written mediation report, that the chair or designee send the appeal/grievance to an existing departmental appeals committee."

As specified in "Step 2" of the "College of Letters and Science Grievance/Grade Appeal Procedure," a Grievance Committee has the following duties:

- Gathers and considers all information it deems appropriate.
- Affords the student and the instructor an opportunity to present their cases.
- Recommends a course of action in its own report.

Additional Requirements:

The chair of the Grievance Committee "will issue a status report on the committee's progress via email to all parties every 15 working days until the written committee report is completed. Concerns about lack of progress or reporting may be referred to the Office of the Associate Dean for humanities, natural sciences, or social sciences, as appropriate. The committee report will be given to both the student and the instructor, and a copy will be retained in the department's files. If a proposed resolution is agreeable, the student and instructor will be asked to indicate formally that the matter is resolved. If the proposed resolution is not acceptable to either the student or the instructor, or if no resolution has been proposed, then the process continues to Step 3. Both the student and the instructor will be informed that the decision arising from Step 3 is final."

"If the situation is not resolved in the Step 2 process, the student or the instructor may request, within ten (10) working days of receiving a copy of the written report from the departmental committee, that the appeal/grievance be referred to the Office of the Associate Dean for humanities, natural sciences, or social sciences, as appropriate. The Associate Dean will review all documents, independently consider all information s/he deems appropriate, afford the student and the instructor an opportunity to present their cases, and decide on a course of action. The Associate Dean or designee will issue a status report on her/his investigation via email to all parties every 15 working days until s/he reaches a decision.

Concerns about lack of progress or reporting may be referred to the Office of the Dean of the College of Letters and Science. Following evaluation at this level, the decision of the Associate Dean is final.”

“While due consideration will be given to summer or other recess periods, failure by the student or the instructor to meet any of the prescribed deadlines terminates the appeal procedure, and the decision at the previous appeal level stands.”

https://uwm.edu/letters-science/wp-content/uploads/sites/255/2016/05/grievance_policy.pdf

Graduate Student Appeal Procedure:

According to the Graduate School Academic Policies and Procedures
<https://uwm.edu/graduateschool/appeals-exceptions/>

“Appeals of academic decisions proceed through a three-step procedure beginning in the student’s program or department and ending with the dean of the Graduate School. A graduate student who chooses to appeal an academic decision (e.g., grades, scholastic standing, and graduation decisions) initiates the appeal with the appropriate authority within the department or program in which the decision was made. As dean of the school administering graduate programs, the dean of the Graduate School is the final authority on appeals of academic decisions. An appeal to the dean of the Graduate School is the third and final step in the appeal procedure and is made only after the first two steps in the appeals procedure have failed to produce a result that the student considers satisfactory. In pursuing an appeal, the student must observe the following sequence:

Step 1

The student appeals to the faculty member or faculty/staff body responsible for making the initial decision within 30 working days of the action that prompted the appeal. This appeal must be made in writing with substantiating reasons for the appeal. If requested by the student, the faculty member or body must provide the student with a written statement of the reason for the adverse decision.

Step 2

If the Step 1 decision is not in the student’s favor, the student may, within 10 working days from the date the Step 1 decision is communicated to the student, appeal to the body designated by the graduate faculty of the student’s program to hear appeals. This appeal must be in writing with substantiating reasons given for the appeal. In the event that any of the members of the body hearing the Step 2 appeal were involved in rendering the Step 1 decision being appealed, they must be replaced for the purpose of hearing the Step 2 appeal. Substitute members will be chosen by the program using established program appeal procedures. If necessary, the dean of the school or college in which the program is located may be asked to appoint replacement members of the committee. If the Step 1 decision that is being appealed was handled by the committee for hearing appeals in the program, the Step 2 appeal should be made to the appropriate appeals committee of the school or college. If such a committee does not exist, the dean of the school or college should appoint an ad hoc committee to handle the appeal.

Step 3

If the Step 2 decision is negative, the student may, within 10 working days from the date of notification of that decision, appeal to the dean of the Graduate School. The student must provide information on the reason for the appeal, substantial evidence in support of the appeal, and the solution sought. All documentation must be forwarded to the dean. In appeals dealing with academic matters which fall within the purview of the faculty, the dean of the Graduate School will respect the faculty decision.”

2.14 Undergraduate Policy Committee

Membership: Members that represent each of the tracks; one representative of teaching academic staff elected each year by indefinite, probationary, and academic staff holding at least a 50% appointment for the previous academic year; one representative of graduate teaching assistants to be elected each year by GTAs; the Director of Composition; the Associate Chair for Undergraduate Studies, who will act as permanent chair; and the Department Chair (ex officio).

Line of Authority: The Undergraduate Policy Committee shall be responsible through the Chair to the Departmental Committee concerning undergraduate courses.

Mission: To ensure a high-quality undergraduate curriculum and major.

The Undergraduate Policy Committee has the following duties:

(1) Reviews regularly the undergraduate curriculum and tracks; reviews and then recommends to the Departmental Committee the approval of proposals for new courses, cross-listing or joint offering of courses or sections, discontinuation of courses, alterations of scheduling patterns, and other substantive modifications to undergraduate courses and the undergraduate program. Proposals on these matters need to come to the Undergraduate Policy Committee (UPC) for review and approval before they go to the Departmental Committee and then the Chair. The UPC endorses the use of e-mail or mail ballots for changes in course numbers, titles, subtitles, catalog descriptions, and prerequisites, and situations in which emergency Departmental Committee approval is necessary.

(2) Reviews the course schedule for each fall and spring semester, summer session, and Winterim session before it goes to the Departmental Committee.

(3) Oversees track options. Reviews and decides on issues and proposals related to the tracks before they go to the Departmental Committee.

(4) Oversees the process of observing (non-composition) undergraduate courses taught by graduate students and instructors; collects and provides a central repository for reports (or letters) of classroom observations; ensures that classroom observations are done regularly within each specialty area.

(5) Ensures that a process of course evaluation is in place that assists in the continued enhancement of undergraduate courses; assists the department in activities related to the quality of teaching.

(6) From time to time, reviews other undergraduate programs; identifies features of those programs that would benefit the undergraduate program and proposes the adoptions of those features to the Departmental Committee.

(7) Assesses the relationship of the undergraduate program to other units of the University and reports to the Departmental Committee its assessment.

(8) Encourages good relations and interactions among undergraduate students, faculty, staff, and administrators in the Department.

2.15 Long Range Planning Committee

Membership: Department Chair; Associate Chair of Graduate Studies; Associate Chair of Undergraduate Studies; Associate Chair of Composition; coordinators of tracks A, B, C, and H; one representative of the Academic Staff holding Indefinite status and selected by the Academic Staff Committee.

The Long Range Planning Committee has the following duties:

- (1) To provide the Executive Committee with a background analysis and recommendations regarding priorities for faculty recruitment; this should occur no later than April during every academic year.
- (2) To conduct discussions, from time to time, of the Department's program array, including consideration of enrollments, programmatic coverage, resource allocation, and staffing; recommendations may go to the Department or Executive Committee, or to the Undergraduate Policy or Graduate Policy committees, as appropriate. Such a discussion should usually occur each year and will be convened by the Chair.
- (3) To conduct the initial review of any inquiry regarding the prospect of a conversion of an academic staff employee to tenure-line appointment; review will be conducted by those members who are also members of the Executive Committee; recommendations will be sent to the Executive Committee.

3.1 Membership and Functions

See UWM Policies and Procedures 4.04 and 4.05.

3.2 Executive Committee: General Procedures and Voting

(1) Parliamentary authority and conduct of meetings: See sections 2.02 and 2.03 of the English Department Faculty Handbook.

(2) Voting on all personnel matters shall be by written ballot. In accordance with UWM Policies and Procedures 5.162, "This ballot shall contain the motion before the committee, the date of the meeting, the individual's vote (yes, no, abstain), and the signature of the individual voting. These ballots will be collected by the chair of the committee and retained in the confidential personnel files for the duration of the candidate's employment at UWM." "The vote on a decision of tenure/promotion shall be recorded in the minutes of the executive committee."

(3) In accordance with UWM Policies and Procedures 5.162, "Proxy votes are not allowed."

(4) The Chair may request members of the Executive Committee to assist her/him in preparing supporting data to accompany recommendations to the Dean.

3.3 Criteria for Recommending Promotion to Associate Professor with Tenure

The present and foreseeable needs of the Department may be a factor in determining recommendations for tenure. Because tenure constitutes a lifetime appointment, the Department must assess the candidate's potential for continued professional growth and accomplishment which must necessarily be judged on the basis of performance at the probationary rank. While successful teaching and commitment to the Department are essential, scholarly achievements weigh most heavily in the tenure decision.

(1) Teaching

Candidates must demonstrate a sustained record of strong and successful teaching. Candidates whose teaching is judged unsatisfactory will not be tenured. In assessing teaching the department will consider evidence such as peer and student evaluations, letters of support, syllabi and other classroom materials, service on graduate student committees, new or revised courses, teaching awards, and overall contributions to the Department's curriculum. The Department may also consider the candidate's ability to incorporate ongoing research into graduate and undergraduate teaching.

(2) Scholarship

Candidates for promotion to Associate Professor must demonstrate evidence of ongoing, significant, and substantial research or creative activity which must necessarily take the form of publication by reputable presses and journals. Given the diversity of the English Department, no hard-and-fast criteria can be formulated with regard to quantity of publication; however, in most cases a book (published or accepted for publication) or its equivalent is expected for tenure. In fields in which the publication of scholarly books is not the norm, judgment will likewise be based on ongoing, significant, and substantial publication as appropriate to the field. The Department will solicit outside evaluations regarding the substance and merit of the candidate's work.

(3) Service

While the department does not require extensive service from Assistant Professors, candidates should demonstrate the capacity to work effectively within departmental structures as well as a commitment to the Department, the university, and the profession.

3.4 Criteria for Recommending Promotion to Professor

Promotion to Professor is recognition of significant accomplishment since tenure. Continued success as a teacher and substantial service to the Department are essential to promotion, but publication is the primary consideration. Although teaching and service cannot entirely replace publication, outstanding contributions in these areas will weigh heavily in the decision.

(1) Teaching

In assessing teaching the Department will consider evidence similar to that considered for tenure. Additional considerations include directing graduate students, developing curriculum, work on graduate examinations, coordinating programs, and ability to incorporate ongoing research into graduate and undergraduate teaching.

(2) Scholarship

Given the diversity of the English Department, no hard-and-fast criteria can be formulated with regards to quantity of publication; however, in most cases a second book (published or accepted for publication) or its equivalent is expected. In fields in which the publication of scholarly books is not the norm, judgment will be based on ongoing, significant, and substantial publication as appropriate to the field. The Department will solicit outside evaluations regarding the substance, merit, and influence of the candidate's work. Candidates are expected to have attained a national reputation in their field.

(3) Service

Candidates for promotion are expected to have contributed extensive service to the Department, the university, and the profession. While service cannot entirely replace publication, outstanding contributions in the area of service will strengthen the case for promotion.

3.5 Criteria of the Divisional Committee for Arts and Humanities for Promotion to Associate Professor with Tenure and Promotion to Professor

Each year the Divisional Committee for Arts and Humanities updates and disseminates its criteria for promotion and tenure as well as information to candidates about preparing their files. Current information is available at <http://www4.uwm.edu/secu/faculty/divisional/ah/index.cfm>

3.6 Sabbatical Ranking Procedure

Early in the fall semester in accordance with the policies and procedures available on the Provost's website, individual sabbatical "proposals will be reviewed first at the departmental level by the executive committee. Where a department receives multiple proposals, the executive committee shall rank the proposals." http://www4.uwm.edu/acad_aff/policy/sabbatical_gl.cfm

The ranked list of sabbatical proposals must be approved by the Executive Committee. The following criteria will apply:

(1) Eligibility Criteria (every proposal that satisfies these criteria will be approved):

According to the policies and procedures available on the Provost's website, "A faculty member is eligible for a sabbatical award under the following terms:

- A faculty member must have completed six or more years of full-time instructional service as ranked faculty, or its equivalent, in the UW System and not have taken a sabbatical within the UW System during the previous six years of full-time service, or its equivalent.
- Leaves of absence, regardless of source of funding (including personal resources and duly approved extensions to the probationary period 'Tenure Clock Extensions') will be excluded in determining a faculty member's years of full-time service.
- Preference shall be given to those making significant contributions to teaching and who have not had a leave of absence, regardless of source of funding, in the previous four years.
- A sabbatical will not be awarded to:

- A faculty member denied reappointment to a permanent position in the year following the sabbatical leave.
- A faculty member who does not plan to return to UWM for at least one academic year of service after the termination of the sabbatical.
- In accord with UWS 1.04, 'ranked faculty' is defined as persons holding the rank of instructor, assistant professor, associate professor, or professor in an academic department or its functional equivalent.
- Part-time faculty have the same waiting period as full-time faculty, but their sabbatical appointment will be based upon the percentage of their faculty appointment."
(http://www4.uwm.edu/acad_aff/policy/sabbatical_gl.cfm)

See the complete UWM policies on and guidelines for the sabbatical program at: http://www4.uwm.edu/acad_aff/policy/sabbatical.cfm

3.7 Sabbatical Ranking Criterion

The number of years during which the faculty member has served without receiving a leave of absence. The faculty member who has taught longest without a break will be ranked first. Buyouts and other partial leaves will be considered in making this calculation, as will years of service at other universities.

3.8 Procedures for Recommending Reappointment, Promotion, or Termination of Probationary Service

(See also UWM Policies and Procedures, 5.15 through 5.19 at <http://www4.uwm.edu/secu/policies/faculty/index.cfm>)

(1) The Executive Committee states formally with reasons (though these reasons do not appear in the minutes), its intention (arrived at by a 2/3 majority of those present and voting in the affirmative) to recommend the promotion, non-retention, dismissal, or continuation in rank of assistant professors and probationary instructors.

(2) If the intended recommendation is for other than promotion, the assistant professor or probationary instructor is notified by the Chair in writing of the intention of the Executive Committee and is advised that s/he may request reconsideration of the intended recommendation by notifying the Chair before a terminal date stated in the correspondence. The reasons are given orally unless the candidate requests the reasons in writing. (See UWM Policies and Procedures 5.173.)

(3) The assistant professor or probationary instructor is advised that appeal may take the form of a written statement or an appearance before the Executive Committee, or both, and that s/he may request a closed or open session to be scheduled within a reasonable time. Such a session will include reconsideration of all pertinent information discussed in earlier meetings. (See UWM Policies and Procedures 5.174.)

(4) After this procedure, the Executive Committee makes its recommendation to the Dean.

3.9 Regulations Governing Executive Committee Personnel Actions

(1) A quorum shall consist of a simple majority of members not on leave or excused because of illness.

(2) All actions concerning faculty appointments, reappointments, and promotions are open to comments by the Chair concerning Departmental needs and priorities.

(3) A motion recommending tenure or indefinite appointment requires the affirmation of two-thirds of those present and voting to pass. (Abstentions do not count in determining the two-thirds of those present and voting.)

(4) Votes on promotions from Associate to Full Professor will be cast by the Associate and Full Professors meeting in executive session.

(5) Voting on all personnel matters shall be by written ballot. In accordance with UWM Policies and Procedures 5.162, "This ballot shall contain the motion before the committee, the date of the meeting, the individual's vote (yes, no, abstain), and the signature of the individual voting. These ballots will be collected by the chair of the committee and retained in the confidential personnel files for the duration of the candidate's employment at UWM." "The vote on a decision of tenure/promotion shall be recorded in the minutes of the executive committee."

(6) In accordance with UWM Policies and Procedures 5.162, "Proxy votes are not allowed."

3.10 Probationary Faculty and Academic Staff without Tenure: Class Visitations

1. Each new member of the probationary faculty or staff without tenure is to be visited at least twice during her/his first year of teaching at UWM.

If the new probationary faculty or staff member is teaching composition, one visit will be made by the Director of Composition, the other by a member of the Executive Committee. The instructor to be visited may choose the member of the Executive Committee. Each visit will involve an examination of the instructor's theme grading.

If the new faculty or staff member is not teaching composition, both visits will be made by members of the Executive Committee, one chosen by the instructor to be visited and one appointed by the Chair of the Department in consultation with the instructor.

2. In subsequent years, additional visits to classes taught by probationary faculty and staff may be arranged at the request of the faculty or staff member to be visited or at the discretion of the Executive Committee or one of its subcommittees. All class visits for the purpose of teaching evaluation will be arranged in advance by the Chair of the department in consultation with the instructor to be visited.

3. Graduate Teaching Assistants in their first year of teaching at UWM will be visited by the Director of Composition—the number of visits to be determined by the amount of help deemed advisable.

3.11 Recommending Salary Increments

Each member of the Department will complete an Annual Summary of Academic Activities as required by the Dean's Office. One copy will be provided for use within the Department—for the Merit Committee, Chair, and Executive Committee.

—See also UWM Faculty Document 2370 (“Merit Salary Recommendations – Information to Faculty Members”) (No: S-39) available at <http://www4.uwm.edu/secu/docs/other/S39.htm>

Each year the Executive Committee will elect a Merit Committee of four members from a slate of nominees proposed by the Committee on Committees. Members are exempt from service on the Merit Committee for five years following their initial term and may be excused for two more years for good reason (i.e., on leave, departmental administration, etc.). The Merit Committee shall not award points to its own members for salary adjustment or exceptional accomplishments, but they should include themselves in the general distribution of points for satisfactory performance. They are also eligible for points allocated by the Department Chair. (See number 3 below.)

If money is made available to the department to increase salaries on the basis of merit, faculty will complete, in addition to the Annual Summary of Academic Activities described above, the procedures outlined below in 3.11.1-3.

(1) Merit Reports and Merit Score Sheets are distributed annually.

(2) Accomplishments in teaching, research, and service, 95 points. Assignment of these points shall be made on the basis of the annual merit self-reports submitted by each member of the departmental merit pool. Merit scores for members of the Merit Committee will be tabulated by the Department Chair; merit scores for other members of the merit pool will be tabulated by the Merit Committee. Each member will receive a merit score which is the mean of her/his score in the current year and her/his scores for the two previous years (to be calculated retroactively if no merit money was available in previous year(s)). If a member has been in the Department for less than three years, she/he will receive a score which represents the mean for the number of years she/he has been in the Department.

(3) Chairperson's allocation. 0-5 points. The Chair will be allocated 5 points to award to members of the Department who, in her/his opinion, deserve additional consideration. Further, to expedite the Merit Committee's task and to promote fairness, the following practices shall be observed:

(a) The Merit Committee shall meet at least once in the fall semester of each year to plan its work for the year. The reports and recommendations of previous Merit Committees are available in the English Department.

(b) During the second semester, while waiting for the Faculty Merit Self-Evaluations to be completed, the Committee is advised to begin reviewing teaching evaluations.

(c) Each faculty member shall be provided with instructions for filling out a Merit Self-Evaluation Form. Along with the Merit Self-Evaluation form, each merit pool member shall submit to the Merit Committee one copy of all publications listed on the Merit Self-Evaluation Form.

(d) Except for members of the Merit Committee, every merit pool member's teaching evaluations should be read by at least two members of the Merit Committee. Evaluations for members of the Merit Committee shall be read by the Chair.

(e) As part of its report to the Executive Committee, the Merit Committee shall list both the raw and merit point scores assigned to each member of the merit pool for each of the categories assessed (teaching, research, and service).

(f) The Chairperson will add the "Chair's points" in a separate entry column and provide an explanation for each entry.

(g) The entire recommendation must be distributed to the Executive Committee at least one week before the meeting at which it is to be approved.

(h) Amendments to the recommendations may be offered in the Executive Committee, but the maximum established for the merit categories may not be exceeded.

(j) When appropriate, the Merit Committee will consult with individual faculty for the purposes of explanation, clarification, or justification.

SUBCOMMITTEE OF THE EXECUTIVE COMMITTEE

3.12 Merit Committee

Membership: Four members of the Executive Committee, elected annually.

The Merit Committee has the following duties:

(1) Reviews the Annual Summaries, publications, teaching evaluations, and other pertinent material of all members of the English Department's Merit pool, and awards merit points in conformity with the procedures described in the English Department Faculty Handbook (section 3.11) and the Merit Report: A Sheet of Explanations—Legends and Notes for the Merit Report Detail & Summary Sheets.

(2) Reviews the merit procedure and recommends changes as necessary.

(3) Review faculty teaching evaluations.

3.13 Awards and Recognition Committees member who has achieved the rank of Distinguished Professor, if available. The Awards and Recognition Committee has the following duties:

(1) Acts as nominating committee for all university-wide awards and honors.

(2) Meets at the beginning of each semester to consider possible nominations of members of the department for relevant awards.

(3) Along with the Chair, is available to consult with faculty who express interest in particular awards.

(4) For those awards stipulating approval of Departmental Executive Committee, the committee will forward its recommendation to the EC.

(5) When needed, assists the Chair in gathering all supporting materials required for nominations (e.g., letters of support, comments from student evaluations, etc.).

5.3 Academic Personnel Recruitment & Hiring

For rules governing competitive and non-competitive appointment processes, consult the Assistant Dean for Administrative Affairs and Personnel, College of Letters and Science.

In the rare instances when the department needs to hire additional personnel to teach specific courses at the 300-level or above due to programmatic need, plan or program coordinators must submit a request to the Department Chair and Management Team prior to scheduling. Final confirmation of the teaching assignment will be subject to Executive Committee review and approval.

5.4 Guidelines for Staffing the Summer Session

Staffing for the summer session will be determined by the Chair and Associate Chairs. The assignment of courses to Graduate Teaching Assistants will be made in consultation with the Associate Chair/Director of Composition and Associate Chairs for Undergraduate and Graduate Studies. These determinations will be guided by the following principles:

- Programmatic need will be the first consideration.
- Plan coordinators are given preference in summer teaching assignments.
- When possible within the constraints of the summer budget, faculty members who declare their intention of retiring within three years will be offered the opportunity to teach two courses.
- The Department is committed to offering summer teaching to as many Graduate Teaching Assistants as possible. In selecting GTAs for the summer session, preference will be given to those in the latter stages of the doctoral program whose teaching and academic progress have been satisfactory, and who have received no previous summer support.
- The Management Team will review applications to staff UWM's London Study Abroad Program (January-April). Before June 1, the Management Team will send out a call for applications for the following year.

Applications for the exchange will be reviewed and the selection of a faculty member for the program will be determined on the basis of programmatic need. It is expected that applications will propose courses that are designed specifically for the London-based curriculum of the program, and preference will be given to faculty whose field of specialization is an area of British literature and culture. In order to offset any reduction in salary stemming from the exchange, priority will be given to the faculty member in summer teaching assignments.

In the ranking of applications, priority will be given to the faculty member who has taught the fewest times and/or least recently in London.

- In addition, the Management Team will be responsible for staffing the faculty exchange program with Justus Liebig University, Giessen. Before September 1, the Chair will send out a call for applicants for the following summer. Applications for the exchange will be reviewed and the selection of a faculty member for the program will be determined on the basis of programmatic need. In the ranking of applicants, priority will be given to faculty who do not have other forms of summer support (administrative salary or other summer teaching) as well as those who have not participated in the exchange program. If all applicants have been part of the exchange before, priority will be given to the faculty member who has taught the fewest times and/or least recently at Giessen.

5.5 Spouse/Partner Hiring Procedures

In the event that the issue of a spouse hire or partner hire is raised by a job candidate or a Departmental faculty member, a time frame must be established that includes the opportunity for the Department to consider the questions included below.

See also: UWM policies regarding the “Faculty Partner Accommodation Program” http://www4.uwm.edu/acad_aff/policy/facpartner.cfm

- When the potential hire is the spouse or partner to an external candidate:
 - (1) What constitutes the uniqueness to the Department of the primary job candidate?
 - (2) To what extent is the primary job candidate replaceable by a second or third candidate, and how acceptable would this be to the department?
 - (3) What are the spouse’s or partner’s qualifications, what contributions would s/he make to the Department, and how does s/he fit into the current and long- range needs of the Department?
 - (4) At what rank would the spouse or partner be hired, and what rank would the primary candidate hold? What implications, if any, does that have for the Department?
- When the potential hire is the spouse or partner to a Departmental faculty member:
 - (1) What constitutes the uniqueness and value of the Departmental faculty member, and how detrimental to the Department would it be if s/he left?

(2) What are the spouse's or partner's qualifications, what contributions would s/he make to the Department, and how does s/he fit into the current and long- range needs of the Department?

(3) At what rank would the spouse or partner be hired, and what rank does the faculty member hold? What implications, if any, does this have for the Department?

- If it is decided to use a line for a tenured or tenure-track spouse or partner hire, the Executive Committee will consider the spouse's or partner's candidacy according to the usual procedures for regular faculty hires. If the person is to be offered a tenured appointment, outside evaluations, information on teaching, scholarship, and service, should be obtained as is done for internal tenure candidates. If a non-tenured appointment is at issue, candidates should provide the usual information obtained from applicants for assistant professorships. All candidates for a spouse or partner hire are expected to give job talks or demonstrations to the Department.

5.6 Transfer Procedures

Occasionally, tenured UWM faculty members outside of the department request to transfer into the English Department. These requests can come from individual faculty, or a Dean, or an Associate Dean on their behalf, and generally first go to the Department Chair. The Chair will then send the request, and any related material, to the relevant plan, and the Long Range Planning Committee (LRPC). If approved, either the relevant plan, or the LRPC will prepare a brief report stating the impact on departmental programs, the fit with the department, and potential teaching duties at the graduate and undergraduate level. Curricular need and the quality of research will be considered at all levels. The request is then forwarded to the EC for further consideration, which will include a public presentation by the transferee. Following deliberations, the transfer request is voted upon by the EC, with the results forwarded to the Dean of L&S.

CHAPTER 11 OTHER POLICIES AND PROCEDURES

11.1 : Policy on Use of Departmental Spaces

Any reassignment of a department-owned space requires a prior affirmative vote from the Departmental Committee. Proposals should be presented to the Departmental Committee in writing, and any reassignment is contingent on departmental approval.

This policy applies to classrooms, offices, and any other department-owned space.

11.2 : Policy on Infrastructural Expenses

Any expense above $2,000 must be approved by the Departmental Committee. A proposal with budget should be presented in writing to the Departmental Committee before any charges are made.

This policy applies to classroom renovations, bulk ordering of computers and other technology, and any other infrastructural expenses. Members of the Departmental Committee have the right to request the final budget relating to any expenses for these projects.

11.3 : Criteria and Procedures for Review of Tenured Faculty

1. CRITERIA

Departmental review of tenured faculty is based on professional achievement in research, teaching, and service. Tenured faculty are expected to make sustained, long-term contributions to the Department's mission in each of these areas.

A. Research:

Tenured faculty are expected to continue their scholarly development. Publications and other scholarly and creative activities that make a positive contribution to the development and reputation of the Department will be considered. Achievement will be measured by the number and quality of publications, research fellowships and grants applied for and awarded, special honors and awards, scholarly and creative work delivered at professional meetings, academic institutions, and other venues, editorial and refereeing work for publishers and journals, and quality and promise of long-term projects and work in progress.

B. Teaching:

Tenured faculty are expected to contribute to the Department's instructional mission. Contributions to the Department's programmatic needs, improvement of its instructional program, and quality of instruction will be considered. Assessment will be based on such items as: summary of student teaching evaluations by the Merit Committee, student advising, supervision of independent studies, service on graduate student committees, direction of dissertations, development of new and existing courses, and teaching awards.

C. Service:

Tenured faculty are expected to make service contributions to the Department, university, and profession. Service contributions include: serving on or chairing Department, college, university, and professional committees; service as Department Chair or member of the management team; service as plan coordinator; participation in professional organizations; and service in community engagement activities that utilize the faculty member's scholarly expertise. Evaluation will be based on willing and active participation.

2. PROCEDURES

- A. The departmental Management Team will comprise the committee responsible for post-tenure reviews, which will be conducted by the Department Chair, the Director of Graduate Studies, and the Director of Undergraduate Studies. If a member of the review committee is scheduled for review that year, that person will be reviewed by the other two members of the Management Team along with the Director of Composition selected for service in this case.
- B. The Chair will notify in writing each faculty member scheduled for post-tenure review in a given academic year of the review in the previous spring semester (by April 15). By October 15, the faculty member should provide the Chair with the following materials for the period since the last review:
1. List of activities covering solely the previous 5-year period, divided into separate categories for research, teaching, and service.
 2. Faculty development plan: this document should explain accomplishments in the three areas of research, teaching and service in the previous 5-year period (1-2 pages), and should also outline career plans for research, teaching, and service for the five years following the review (an additional 1-2 pages). The faculty member may also submit any other material deemed relevant. The materials will be due to the Chair by October 15.
- C. The Management Team will review the materials submitted for each faculty member being reviewed in that academic year. In addition to teaching material submitted by the faculty member, the Management Team may consult the Merit Committee's review of teaching evaluations from previous years. After reviewing all the relevant materials, the Management Team will draft a written report which assesses the faculty member's performance using the criteria listed above. The report should contain the committee's recommendation regarding whether the faculty member "Meets Expectations" or "Does Not Meet Expectations". The Management Team will communicate its result to the Executive Committee within 14 days of the commencement of the review.

- D. The Executive Committee will assess the findings of the review, and within 10 days of receiving the findings, vote by written ballot whether the faculty member “Meets Expectations” or “Does Not Meet Expectations”. The result of the vote shall be recorded in the minutes of the Executive Committee and communicated to the faculty member.
- E. For reviews resulting in Executive Committee decision of “Meets Expectations”, the Chair shall provide the faculty member with: a) the Management Team’s written report and b) a written statement of the review within 30 days of the determination. The faculty member shall have the right to submit a written report within 15 days of receipt of the statement from the Chair. The Chair will forward the written statement of the review and the faculty member’s response, if received, within 5 days of the deadline for receiving the faculty member’s response to the Dean(s), Provost and Chancellor. If either the faculty member or the Management Team wishes further to discuss the review, the Department Chair will schedule a meeting of the Committee and the faculty member. The Department Chair will attend this meeting.
- F. A copy of the review report, of the Chair’s written summary, of the faculty member’s written response (if there is one), together with a copy of those documents that played a substantial role in the review (excepting materials that are readily available elsewhere), will be placed in the faculty member’s personnel file in the Department office. The Department will keep an ongoing record of the review cycle.
- G. For reviews resulting in “Does Not Meet Expectations,” the Executive Committee shall provide the faculty member with a) the Management Team’s written report and b) a written summary of the review within 5 working days of the decision. The faculty member shall have the right to prepare a written response within 10 working days after receipt of the summary. If either the faculty member or the Management Team wishes further to discuss the review, the Department Chair will schedule a meeting of the Committee and the faculty member. The Department Chair will attend this meeting.
- H. For reviews resulting in “Does Not Meet Expectations,” the Chair will forward the written statement of the review and any additional response from the faculty member to the Dean(s) within 5 working days after the faculty member’s written response deadline.
- I. Before a final judgement of “Does Not Meet Expectations” is rendered, both the Dean (with involvement of the Divisional Committee) and the Chancellor must conduct their own reviews. The Chair will monitor these higher reviews on behalf of the Department. The final determination of “Does Not Meet Expectations” is to be received by the faculty member in writing from the Chancellor’s office no later than 30 days prior to the end of the academic year during which post-tenure review is conducted. The Chair and the faculty member, in consultation with the Dean(s), shall develop a written remediation plan for mentoring and professional development to address all the issues identified in the review, to be completed no later than 30 days after the Chancellor has informed the faculty member of the final determination. The plan shall be the product of mutual discussion between the faculty member, the Chair and the Dean(s), shall respect academic freedom and professional self-direction, and shall be flexible enough to allow for subsequent alteration.

- J. By university policy, the faculty member who has received a review of “Does Not Meet Expectations” will have three academic semesters to fully satisfy all elements of the remediation plan. An extension of one academic semester may be granted if the remediation plan includes performance shortfall in research. Regarding the process for determination of the successful completion of remediation: A) the faculty member submits documentation of activities that address issues in the remediation plan to the EC. This can be submitted at any time during the period, but no later than 4 weeks prior to the end of the remediation period. B) Within 30 days, the EC will review the materials submitted, and make their determination of whether the elements of the remediation plan have been satisfied. C) The EC will formulate a written explanation for their determination, and submit this, along with the faculty member’s documentation to the Dean. The Chair will monitor the higher stages of review and whatever disciplinary actions may be imposed on behalf of the Department.
- K. The Department Chair and Executive Committee will take the post-tenure review reports into account in long range planning for the Department.

3. IMPLEMENTATION

- A. Every tenured member of the Department will be reviewed once every five years. Reviews for promotion conducted according to departmental criteria and procedures for promotion will constitute a faculty review for the purposes of post-tenure review.
- B. In scheduling reviews, the Department will take into account faculty requests for a promotion review, changes of Chairperson, leaves of absence, sabbaticals, impending retirement, etc.
- C. The schedule of post-tenure reviews will initially follow a three-year rotation arranged alphabetically. A faculty member’s position in this rotation can also be changed due to upcoming retirement or date of most recent promotion.
- D. Faculty will provide a prospective 5-year Faculty Development plan when they come up for their first post-tenure review. The first post-tenure review of currently tenured faculty will take place according to general departmental criteria. From this point forward, faculty will be asked at the time they are appointed with tenure to submit a prospective five-year Faculty Development plan.

B.10. The Robert Jones Scholarship

B.11. Faculty Teaching Awards

B.1. The Frederick J Hoffman Award

This award for $500 is for the best paper written by a graduate student in the Department of English during the current academic year (established by the Departmental Committee, 10/8/68; the following regulations approved by the Departmental Committee, 6/1/71, and revised, 4/10/17, 5/14/2020). Submissions are due on May 15 each year, with the winners announced at the Fall awards ceremony.

The Administrator

The Administrator of the Hoffman Award shall be the Associate Chair for Graduate Studies, who shall oversee all phases of the contest. S/he shall:

- Be responsible for advertising and announcements concerning the award; solicit volunteers to serve on the board of judges, and forward these to the Chair
- Meet with the board of judges and see that a decision is rendered by the set date.

The Board of Judges

The Board of Judges will consist of three faculty members: the Administrator, along with two other faculty members appointed by the Chair from among those volunteering. The committee members will represent different programs in the department. The Board shall be selected by May 1 each year. The judges will complete their evaluation in time for the Administrator to announce the winner at the Fall ceremony, but they reserve the right to make no award if in their opinion no worthy paper is entered. A judge has the right to send a given paper to a specialist in the field in which it concentrates in order to get an opinion about its originality or the importance of content with which the judge may not be familiar. Papers judged worthy of honorable mention may be so designated.

Rules for Entry

The submitted paper must not be shorter than fifteen nor longer than thirty-five double-spaced pages of text. Papers can be seminar papers, revised seminar papers, conference papers, essays accepted for publication, dissertation chapters, or other academic writing. Submissions will be made anonymously. The submission process will be detailed each year in the call for entrants. No student may enter more than one paper in a given year.

B.2. Tinsley Helton Dissertation Fellowship

Eligibility:

Open to students in the Department of English at the dissertation stage of their doctoral study who are in Plans A, B, or C and who anticipate completion of the degree during the fellowship year. Moreover, the recipient may not be employed by UWM or hold any other UWM fellowship or scholarship during the semester of the fellowship.

Description:

The award is for one semester, either the fall or spring, and also includes a Nonresident Tuition Remission (NRTR). The amount may vary to allow for cost of living increases. In recent years, the fellowship has been worth more than $10,000.

Selection of recipient:

The student to be offered the fellowship will be selected by a committee consisting of the Chair of the Department, the Associate Chair for Graduate Studies, and a faculty member of the Graduate Policy Committee chosen by that Committee.

The Fellowship Committee will examine the academic record of all eligible students to ascertain what students are highly likely both to qualify for and to accept the award. The Committee will then request of the major advisor of each of these students a written statement as to the satisfactoriness of the student's progress, the subject and scope of the dissertation, the likelihood of its completion during the next academic year, and any other data that may be helpful in selecting the recipient. The Committee may also confer orally with the advisors.

B.3. James A. Sappenfield Fellowship

Eligibility – An outstanding student enrolled in the master's or doctoral program of the Department of English at the University of Wisconsin- Milwaukee, and who will enroll for at least one semester after receiving the award.

Description – The Sappenfield Fellowship, awarded annually, consists of a stipend paid to the student at the end of spring semester.

Selection of Recipient – Selection is by the Associate Chair for Graduate Studies and the Chair of the Department of English.

Further Considerations – Mindful that even very large bequests have proven to be insufficient to sustain over time the programs they were intended to support, the donors have agreed that the faculty of the department ought to have the flexibility to reallocate the resource if it is judged to be inadequate as originally chartered. At the same time, the donors intend that the Sappenfield money be used only for student scholarships and that it be devoted to attracting and retaining outstanding graduate students in the Department of English. Should the department discontinue its graduate programs, the fund would be converted to a scholarship program for undergraduate English majors. Although the donors desire that the Fellowship be awarded annually, the amount of individual awards and the frequency of awarding the Sappenfield Fellowships will be at the discretion of the faculty of the Department of English.

B.4. Creative Writing Awards

The Creative Writing Program awards a variety of prizes annually. The Plan C Coordinator announces the competitions and solicits entries each spring. Unless otherwise indicated: a) all Plan C/creative writing graduate students are eligible and b) winning pieces are selected by a judge from outside the university appointed by the Plan C Coordinator. Students may submit entries to more than one contest, but may not submit more than one entry to a single contest. Plan C oversees the following; consult the plan coordinator for details:

- Academy of American Poets Award/Edward Ryan Prize. Students should submit up to three pages of poems to be considered.

- The Wladyslaw Cieszynski Memorial Award is for previously published work: one poem of no more than two pages, one story of no more than 6000 words, or one creative nonfiction piece of no more than 6000 words. Online and print publications are both acceptable. Please submit (as a PDF) a copy of the journal cover or web site front page, table of contents when one exists, and the published piece itself with the author's name blacked out wherever it appears.
- The Sheila Roberts Prize is for up to twenty pages of unpublished short fiction.
- The Ellen Hunnicut Prize is for up to twenty-five pages (chapter or other suitable excerpt) of an unpublished novel or novella.
- The William Harrold Memorial Poetry Award is for up to three pages of poems.
- The Thomas J. Bontly Faculty Fiction Award. There is no application or submission required for this prize; the Creative Writing (Plan C) faculty will select the winner from work they have seen during the academic year. Thomas Bontly's widow, Marilyn Bontly, and son, Thomas Bontly, Jr., will be informed annually, via the university's development office, who has won the award.
- UWM Poetry Manuscript Award is to be awarded annually in the amount of $250 or a lesser or greater amount, according to donations received. The guidelines are:
 - All UWM English graduate students who have not previously published a full-length book of poetry are eligible to apply. The monetary award should be used for submission fees to poetry book contests.
 - Applicants should submit a full-length poetry manuscript (48- page minimum) to the department chair by a deadline set by the chair.
 - Formatting: the manuscript must include a table of contents and may include an acknowledgments page. It should be submitted via email as a single document (in .doc or .pdf format) by noon on the day of the deadline.
 - The winner will be selected by an outside judge.
 - The winner must submit to the Chair of the English Department a list of the contests to which their book was submitted by April 30th of the following year.
 - The same poet cannot win the contest twice.

B.5. Composition Award

The Virginia Burke Writing Contest honors first-year writers whose essays are judged the best of the year. Contest rules and entry forms are available in Curtin 433. (The Program in Rhetoric, Professional Writing and Community Engagement oversees the Virginia M. Burke Award.)

<http://www4.uwm.edu/lets/eng101-102/index.cfm>

B.6. Leslie Whitaker Award

The Leslie Whitaker Award was established to support a bi-annual symposium, workshop or lecture in the Department of English, centered around writing, creativity and teaching. Funds will be awarded to an academic staff person each year: up to $1,000 to develop the program in year one and up to $2,000 to implement the program in year two. This cycle will continue as long as funds are available. The proposal and selection process are to be determined by the Chair of English.

B.7. The Alice Gillam Award

The Alice Gillam Award is to be awarded annually in the amount of $500 or a lesser or greater amount, according to donations received. It is designed to acknowledge a graduate student whose work exemplifies Professor Gillam's commitment to holding together the intellectual and the humane in the discipline of Rhetoric, Professional Writing and Community Engagement.

B.8. The Elizabeth Babbitt Memorial Scholarship

The Elizabeth Babbitt Memorial Scholarship is an award given to outstanding undergraduate students in English, with preference given to freshmen and sophomores with demonstrated financial need. The number of awards and their amount is determined each year in consultation with the College of Letters and Science, based on availability of funding. Each spring the department Chair will appoint an ad hoc committee of three faculty members to administer this and any other undergraduate awards. The Elizabeth Babbitt Memorial Scholarship is an award of $1,000 given to outstanding undergraduate students in English, with preference given to freshmen and sophomores with demonstrated financial need. Each spring the department Chair will appoint an ad hoc committee of three faculty members to administer this award (along with the Jones scholarships).

B.9. The Robert Jones Scholarship

The purpose of the Robert Jones Scholarship is to provide financial assistance for tuition and related educational expenses for undergraduate students pursuing a degree at the University of Wisconsin–Milwaukee and who are enrolled fulltime in a curriculum leading to admission to graduate work in literature. The recipient(s) of the Scholarship shall be selected based on these criteria:

- The student(s) must be an English major, with junior year status.
- Preference will be given to African-American student(s).
- The student(s) must have maintained a grade point average of at least 3.0 on a 4.0 scale in their prior undergraduate course work.
- The student(s) must be a resident of the State of Wisconsin and have demonstrated financial need.

In any year where eligible candidates for this prize are identified, the chair will appoint an ad hoc committee from the faculty to determine the winner(s).

B.10. Faculty Teaching Awards

Faculty Undergraduate Teaching Award:

The Faculty Undergraduate Teaching Award is given in recognition of outstanding undergraduate teaching. Each year faculty will be selected on the basis of the Merit Committee's annual review of teaching evaluations. The amount of the grant, and the number of grantees, will be determined by the committee in consultation with the Chair.

Faculty Graduate Teaching Award:

The Faculty Graduate Teaching Award is given in recognition of outstanding graduate teaching. Each year faculty will be selected on the basis of the Merit Committee's annual review of teaching evaluations. The amount of the grant, and the number of grantees, will be determined by the committee in consultation with the Chair.

A faculty member cannot win the same teaching award two years in a row. However, winners of the undergraduate teaching award are eligible for the graduate teaching award the following year, and vice versa.

APPENDIX C:

Professional Organization Sponsored by the Department: The Lambda Theta Chapter of Sigma Tau Delta, National English Honor Society

The Lambda Theta Chapter of Sigma Tau Delta, National English Honor Society Membership

English majors (both L & S and Education) whose academic record indicated superior performance in English courses beyond the sophomore level are invited to membership in Sigma Tau Delta.

Honorary memberships are conferred upon members of the English faculty in recognition of distinctive service to the English Department. Students or faculty who are members of a chapter of Sigma Tau Delta at another institution are invited to affiliate membership in the Lambda Theta Chapter.

Activities

The Lambda Theta Chapter of Sigma Tau Delta usually holds three meetings during an academic year, all involving a speaker or event of literary or scholarly value and ordinarily followed by a social gathering. The last of these events is the annual initiation ceremony and banquet.

Advisors

Two members of the English Department Faculty or Instructional Staff are appointed by the Department Chair to serve as advisors to Sigma Tau Delta, the appointments considered to be continuing subject to the will of the advisors and of the Department Chair.

APPENDIX D:

Online Course Request Policy First-Year Composition (FYC) and Business & Technical Communication (BTC)

Online sections of FYC and BTC courses are a fixed and scarce commodity, and all requests cannot be met. We cannot continue to make these staffing decisions based on precedent or distance from campus. It is department policy to prioritize the professional development of all instructors (academic staff and graduate teaching assistants) above other concerns. If a request for online/hybrid teaching stems from needs pertaining to disability, there must be current accommodation documentation on file with HR per ADA guidelines. Online and hybrid courses will be assigned according to the judgment of the FYC and BTC coordinators based on adding value to the instructor, and/or adding value to the course or program.

The procedure will be as follows: For each academic year, requests will need to be submitted by the first day of Winterim in the preceding January. Requests need to be made anew each year. Graduate students and academic staff should make their requests, including relevant evidence, according to the following priorities:

Adding value to the instructor

- Expanding teaching experience to online/hybrid
- Going on the job market
- Going up for promotion

Adding value to the course or program

- Demonstrated excellence in teaching online/hybrid
- Recent, relevant professional development in teaching online/hybrid (e.g., CETL's Online and Blending Teaching certificate; Digital Media and Composition Institute—DMAC; etc.)

The decisions about who is assigned to online sections will be a complex, holistic one which balances the interests of the department as well as the professional needs and interests of the instructors. Final review of online teaching assignments will take place during the normal scheduling process, which includes Management Team input.

APPENDIX E:

Criteria for the Assignment of 200-Level Courses to Graduate Teaching Assistants

1. No Graduate Teaching Assistant (GTA) will be assigned a 200-level course in their first year of teaching if they are part of the Composition pool. Exceptions may be made for students whose first language is not English.
2. Plan Coordinators in the areas of Literary and Critical Studies (Plan A); Rhetoric, Professional Writing and Community Engagement (Plan B); Creative Writing (Plan C); and Media, Cinema, and Digital Studies (Plan H) as well as the Associate Chair for Undergraduate Studies will assign Graduate Teaching Assistants to 200-level courses in their respective tracks. Coordinators will consider such factors as previously demonstrated teaching ability and programmatic need. Coordinators will forward their recommendations to the Associate Chair of Undergraduate Studies. Ultimately, the Department Faculty must approve the entire schedule.
3. Ordinarily, GTAs who have not taught 200-level courses previously will be given preference over those who have; similarly, those who have taught only one such course, will be given preference over those who have taught two or more, and so on.
4. All GTAs teaching 200-level courses should expect to be visited and assessed by a member of the Undergraduate Policy Committee or the relevant Advisory Committee. Such assessments will be a significant factor in the consideration of future assignments to such courses.
