

History 594: Methods and Theory in the Historical Study of Religion (Women, War, and Religion in Early Medieval Europe)

Dr. Katherine E. Milco

FALL 2020

ONLINE COURSE on Canvas

Email: milco@uwm.edu

Course Description:

This course focuses on the topics of women, war, and religion in late antiquity and early medieval Europe. The emphasis is placed on the critical analysis of ancient texts, which is the essence of historical methodology that professional historians use today. The final third of the course will examine and evaluate different contemporary methodologies – postmodernism, Marxism, feminism, psychohistory, postcolonialism – that some professional historians use in the study of history.

Course Objectives:

1. To learn how to use and analyze primary sources.
2. To learn the role of secondary sources in historical research: positive and negative.
3. To understand and utilize contemporary methodologies utilized in the discipline of history.

Required Textbook:

There is no required textbook for you to purchase. All readings will be provided to you free of charge via Canvas.

Grading Scale:

95-100	A	80-82	B-	67-69	D+
90-94	A-	77-79	C+	63-66	D
87-89	B+	73-76	C	60-62	D-
83-86	B	70-72	C-	Lower than 60	F

Evaluation:

Reading Responses	80%
Final Paper	20%

Course Components:

1. Reading Responses: There are a total of 18 reading responses assigned over the course of the semester. These are responses that you give to questions that I pose about the text. For the first 7 weeks of the course, all the reading responses will answer questions that I pose about ancient source material. From week 8 onward, they will answer questions that I pose about contemporary methodologies and secondary sources. I will drop your two lowest reading responses. Late reading responses are not accepted. For each reading (ancient or modern), I create a short video to orient you to the text.

2. Final Paper: The final paper will be assigned on Friday, November 27 at 8 am and will be due on Friday, December 11 at 12 pm (Noon). It should be no more than 2000 words. This is not a research paper. Late papers are not accepted.

Guidelines for writing:

- a. Do not include an introduction or conclusion. Get to the point.
- b. Do not express your perspective or opinion. Do not use personal pronouns (such as “I” or “me”).
- c. Your response should be typed, 12-point font.
- d. Do not refer to any other reading than the one assigned.
- e. Cite your sources in parenthesis: page number or paragraph number.
- f. Provide all the evidence.
- g. No direct quotations.

All material for the course can be found under the “assignments” tab on Canvas with the exception of the syllabus (which is under the “syllabus” tab).

There are no extra credit opportunities offered in this course. Do not ask.

Academic Honesty:

All work must meet the criteria for academic honesty as established by the University.

Please see:

<https://uwm.edu/academicaffairs/facultystaff/policies/academic-misconduct/>

No material (including from the web) that has not been assigned by the instructor may be used for any of the papers.

Work Per Week:

The amount of time that you should expect to spend on homework per week will vary according to student. Nevertheless, the ballpark figure of 7-9 hours is what I suggest.

If you require special accommodations due to a documented disability, please contact me.
