

4th Annual Jere D. McGaffey Lecture

Frontiers of Freedom: Negotiating the Nation in Multiethnic Ukraine 1648-1922

The narrative of Ukraine's 300-year struggle for freedom resounds with the stories and voices of its multi-ethnic population – such as Jews, Muslim Tatars, Roma, and Poles. This lecture highlights the coalescence of perspectives of Ukraine's different ethnic, religious, and political constituencies in the nation's journey towards independence.
