

Forum on Hmong Sexualities

Thursday, November 12, 2015

6:00pm-7:30pm

UW-Milwaukee

Union 191

This facilitated forum takes on difficult questions about sexuality, exploring the variations in morals, norms and practices that have emerged in Hmong communities in the last 40 years. Feel free to bring your own topics to discuss, or just come and listen!

FREE AND OPEN TO THE PUBLIC

About the Panelists

Kong Pha is a Ph.D. candidate in American Studies at the University of Minnesota. His research focuses on the representations of Hmong gender and sexuality since their arrival to the U.S.

Louisa Schein teaches Women's and Gender Studies, Anthropology, Asian American Studies and Critical Sexuality Studies at Rutgers University in New Jersey. She publishes on Hmong/Miao in the U.S. and China.

Mai See Thao is a PhD candidate in the Anthropology Department at the University of Minnesota. She examines the return migrations of Hmong-Americans with type II diabetes to Laos and Thailand and how these migrations are caught up with global desires of kin and sexuality.

Sponsored by UWM Hmong Diaspora Studies Program and Hmong Student Association

Questions? Please contact:

Andrew Xiong (xiongak@uwm.edu)

Victor Yang (vhyang@uwm.edu)

Tou Fong Lee (toufong@uwm.edu)