

ANTI-ASIAN VIOLENCE DURING THE COVID-19 PANDEMIC

Thursday, March 11, 2021
12:00-1:30p.m.

COME AND LEARN, HEAR US OUT, JOIN US!

In recent weeks, Anti-Asian hate incidents have surged in the United States. Fueled by racist and xenophobic rhetoric and policies, more than 2,800 incidents of anti-Asian discrimination have been documented since the outbreak of the COVID-19 pandemic. This panel will address the impact of acts of physical violence and racism on people of Asian descent and provide suggestions on how to support the Asian/Asian American community.

PANELISTS:

MODERATOR:

Janey Christoffersen
Graduation Coordinator &
UWM Asian Faculty and
Staff Association Steering
Committee Member

Dr. Stanley Thangaraj
Associate Professor of Anthropology, Gender Studies, and International Studies at the City College of New York (CUNY)

Natalie Chin
Curriculum Management System
Functional Administrator & UWM
Asian Faculty and Staff Association
Co-Chair

Dr. Jacqueline Nguyen
Associate Professor,
UWM Department of Educational Psychology

Registration in advance for this meeting is required:

<https://uwm-edu.zoom.us/join/zoom/register/tZ0rduCupjqoHdTHck63nOElhovdDLpIKB1>

Sponsored by UW-Milwaukee's Hmong Diaspora Studies Program.

Co-sponsors: Comparative Ethnic Studies, Cultures and Communities Program, Asian Faculty and Staff Association,
Southeast Asian American Student Center

Questions? Contact Tong Yang, Hmong Studies Associate
Lecturer at yang895@uwm.edu