DAY 1
This training is designed for pre-adoptive parents to gain an understanding of who the children are in the Wisconsin public child welfare system. Pre-adoptive parents will gain knowledge on how to develop and nurture a parent-child attachment. Although a child or youth wants to be adopted, their identity and culture are important to them and there will be discussions on how to develop and/or maintain that aspect of a child or youth. This class includes information on what is child maltreatment as well as how child development is impacted by maltreatment and trauma.

This training is designed for pre-adoptive parents to gain an understanding of who the children are in the Wisconsin public child welfare system. Pre-adoptive parents gain knowledge related to trauma and separation; as well as the associated loss and grief that is a core factor in adoptive families. Parents gain strategies to support the healing process for their child or youth, as well as knowledge on how to positively parent considering their child’s trauma history. Information will be given on the history of child welfare and adoption as well as the legal process that leads to an adoption.

This training is designed for pre-adoptive parents to gain an understanding of who the children are in the Wisconsin public child welfare system. Pre-adoptive parents gain knowledge related to parenting and discipline. Parents gain an understanding of their role before termination of parental rights and after in relation to their child’s education. Parents learn how to support their child or youths’ cultural heritage. This class includes strategies on how to address and manage changes that occur within the family system as a result of adopting. Also, this class helps parents to share and manage associated fears related to parenting through adoption.
