ZOOM

DANIEL HOEFT: Daniel graduated from UWM in 2019 with a degree in Political Science with a Pre-Law emphasis and a minor in Communication. Since graduation, Daniel has worked in marketing roles that focus on growth. He currently is the head of Growth Marketing at The Daily Upside, a business & finance newsletter start-up.

GRACE FUHR: Grace graduated in 2010 from UW-Milwaukee with a major in Political Science and a minor in German. Originally from Minnesota, Grace made Milwaukee home and began a career in the city. She started as a legislative assistant for the Milwaukee Common Council, then followed an interest in historic preservation and community outreach by transitioning to an administrative role at non-profit Historic Milwaukee. In 2014, Grace had the opportunity to work as district director for State Senator Chris Larson and then help with fundraising for senate candidates during the midterm elections working as the fund development director for the State Senate Democratic Committee. After some time off following the midterms, Grace continued to hone her fundraising skills at the Children's Hospital Foundation. In 2016, Historic Milwaukee grew its staff and recruited Grace to return as the Events Director, where she continues to develop and organize special events like Doors Open Milwaukee and other programming that highlight Milwaukee's neighborhoods, architecture, and history. Grace lives with her husband and 3-year-old in Milwaukee's Riverwest neighborhood.

MAGGIE LUND: Maggie Lund is a seasoned corporate communications professional with over 15 years of experience. As the Director of Corporate Public Relations and Executive Communications, Maggie leads a team responsible for developing communication strategies that help advance the company's overarching business strategy, key priorities and corporate reputation.

Maggie joined Kohl's in 2010 and has held a number of progressive roles across consumer PR, corporate PR and executive communications. Prior to joining Kohl's, she served as a broadcast TV editor at WITI-TV in Milwaukee. Maggie holds a B.A. in Broadcast Journalism and Political Science from University of Wisconsin-Milwaukee, and resides in Shorewood with her husband, three children and energetic wheaten terrier.

TRESSA DiPIAZZA: Tressa is a spring of 2020 COVID gradate with a triple major in Political science, communication, and pre-law, now working as a full-time recruiter pushing for a promotion in account management. She can't wait to share what she has learned since graduation and how her degrees have benefited her!
