

University of Wisconsin-Milwaukee's Diversifying Clinical Psychology Virtual Event!

November 16th from 6:30-8:00 p.m. CST via Zoom

See registration information below

This event is for prospective applicants who identify with backgrounds historically underrepresented in Clinical Psychology, which may include Black, Latinx, Indigenous, and other people of color, individuals who identify as LGBTQ+, individuals with disabilities, those from low-income backgrounds, and first-generation college students.

During this event, UWM's Clinical Psychology Program will host breakout rooms where attendees can meet with their faculty member(s) of interest and a student panel to discuss diversity, equity, and inclusion initiatives within the program. To attend this event, please register (see QR code/link below) by November 15th, 2021 at 5:00 p.m. CST.

Questions: reach out to Christine Larson, Director of Clinical Training, [larsoncl@uwm.edu](mailto:l Larsoncl@uwm.edu)

Register here:

www.tinyurl.com/UWMregistration

Program information:

<https://tinyurl.com/UWMClinPsyProspectiveApp>