RESEARCH EXPERIENCE

Konkel, R. (Research Assistant) (January 2020-Present). Milwaukee County Wraparound: Psychiatric Crisis Services Evaluation.

- This project uses both quantitative and qualitative (interview) data to examine services received, and perceived quality of services received among Wraparound PCS clients and their guardians. Spatial relationships among the home residences of clients and relevant services are also examined.

Headley, R. (PI), & Metzel, S. (September 2017 – December 2018). Perceptions, attitudes, and interactions between a homeless population and police officers.

- This project included interviews with homeless individuals regarding their perceptions, attitudes, and interactions with law enforcement.

Headley, R. (PI), & Ratkowski, D.* (May 2017 – September 2017). The effect of vacant lots on neighborhood disorder, disorganization, and crime rates.

- This project included collection of data on indices of physical and social disorder across a racially stratified sample of neighborhoods in Milwaukee. Additionally, we collected disorder data on vacant lots within the sample. These data were used to examine differential effects of vacant lots/unoccupied structures, physical disorder, and social disorder on UCR Part I and Part II offenses.
