PROVIDING GRAMMARLY TO INTERNATIONAL STUDENTS

WHEREAS, international students at the University of Wisconsin-Milwaukee (UWM) need additional help in English, as it’s not their first language.

WHEREAS, international students at UWM don’t use English in fear of making grammar mistakes and/or spelling mistakes.

WHEREAS, a poor grasp of the English language leads to problems in both academia and in the social arena.

WHEREAS, international students at UWM have English classes that they have to take, but they are unmotivated to use English as their main language outside of these classes, as they aren’t getting the help that a classroom setting offers.

WHEREAS, the University of Wisconsin-Milwaukee does not fund any grammar assistance tools for students, while this practice is already done at the University of Wisconsin-Whitewater.

THEREFORE BE IT RESOLVED; the Student Association at the University of Wisconsin-Milwaukee will fund a subscription to Grammarly for its 1,643 international students that are enrolled full-time (undergraduate to PhD) in the amount of $6475 ($4 per student).

THEREFORE BE IT RESOLVED; the presiding International Advocacy Senator will conduct a survey of the results (surrounding usage, effect, and issues) to be presented to the Center for International Education to encourage future funding of the project.

THEREFORE BE IT FINALLY RESOLVED; this legislation will to be communicated to the Director of the Center for International Education and the Director for International Student and Scholar Services.
