

Test Taking Strategies Self-Assessment

	Always	Sometimes	Never
Do you preview your entire exam before starting to answer the questions?
Do you allocate time for each section of your exam prior to starting?
Do you carefully read the directions prior to starting?
Do you carefully read all response options on multiple-choice questions before selecting your answer?
Do you outline or represent content for essay questions before writing?
Does test anxiety influence your performance on exams?
Do you change a lot of correct answers into incorrect responses?
Do you proofread your responses to essay questions?
Do you review your responses on the exam before turning it in? How many times?
Do you review past exams whenever possible to identify test-taking errors and correct them before the next test?
