

THE URBAN FORUM

@ CITY HALL

Hearing Community Voices

Presented by the UWM Urban Studies Programs, Milwaukee County Historical Society, and the BLC Field School

The Urban Forum will bring together community, university, and city partners to explore topics that matter to Milwaukee. A pop-up exhibit and a panel discussion will gather community leaders, residents, university scholars, students, and city officials to explore why community voices are important and how they should be heard. A student poster session will explore senior capstone and graduate student projects examining important issues facing Milwaukee.

We invite you to join us and share your perspectives.
